TO LOOK OUT FOR STRANGE SHIP Believed to he # Raider-Was Intercepted, But Allowed to Proceed.

Halifax, N.S., Dec. 8. -Allied ship-ping was warned by British naval authorities tonight to be on the look-out for a strange vessel, believed to be a raider, which was intercepted on December second off the northwestern coast of Scotland and allowed to proceed under the impression that she was the Dutch steamer Gamma. Later it learned that the Gamma was at Kirkwall on that date and did not leave until December 3.

The identity of the supposed raider has not been determined. Admiralty officials aparently suspect that if she is a hostile craft, she may carry mines for dropping off this port, the center of British naval activity on this conti-nent and the point of departure for Canadan troops ships. The vessel could reach here from the position where she was last reported by tomorrow or Sunday.

The text of the warning continues: "A vessel was intercepted at 3 a. m. December 2 in lattitude 55.36 north ongitude 12.42 west and was allowed to proceed under the impression that the was a vessel named Gamma. The latter was at Kirkwall at the time clearing 11 a. m. December 3. Identity of former not yet established but rescription is as follows: About 1200 tons, black hull with red bottem, white upper works, one funnel. Phought to be plain black, no Dutch lag on bow. She was apparently in ballast, steering a course about wes bouthwest. Vessel may be raider."
